*(Quad occupancy describes the price each participant pays when sharing a room with three other participants for a total of four in one room with two beds. For Triple occupancy (3 per room) add $45.00 per participant; for double occupancy (2 per room) add $134.00 per participant; for single occupancy add $400.00 per participant to the above prices.)

Most FAQ's from Girl Scout Leaders about arranging their trip to San Francisco

- These are preliminary itineraries and can change. Some items like Alcatraz and restaurant options can sell out, so these can only be confirmed after full payment for the entire troop is received per payment deadlines.
- Your invoicing will be based on an estimated number of participants and rooming configurations. Once your final numbers and rooming requests are confirmed (no later than March 15, 2017), a final updated invoice will be sent and immediate payment will be due.
- If you use Adventures America to book your Airline Reservations and/or Bus Arrangements, there will be different deadline dates for payments based on airline and bus line requirements.
- Hotel rooms at Hotel Zephyr cannot accommodate roll-away beds in their double bedded rooms. So rooms of 5 people cannot be accommodated.
- If the number of people in your group is not divisible by 4 exactly, to get all quad occupancy, you will have some people paying more per person to be in a triple or double occupancy room. You will need to inform your group about this. You can have those in staying in triple or double occupancy pay the additional fees directly, or you can choose to divide the additional charges among everyone in the group.

- For the group's hotel room block, we will request to place your entire group on the same floor and either next to one another or across the hall.
- Connecting rooms can be requested but not guaranteed. If you are willing to be separated from the rest of your group to get you two connecting rooms, then the request might be confirmed.
- The Hotel can provide storage for your luggage if you arrive prior to check-in time at 4:00PM or are departing the hotel after check-out at 11:00AM. Tipping Bell Hops for storing or assisting with your luggage is customary but not required.
